If you have never attended one of our conventions then this may be the year to make it happen. Many of our conventioners come back year after year. You will receive lots of gifts and prizes and the location, food and fellow conventioners guarantee this will be a fun event.

We have several workshops planned this year including finishing a `Cookie Cutter piece` and making some fun buttons and charms so bring your favorite photos.

The event is held at the Tampa Airport Marriott Hotel. It is a short ride on the escalator from the baggage hall. Relax in the hotel on Sunday morning before stepping out to your gate. Most conventioners book their return flights Sunday late morning. Convention ends at 11.30am on Sunday October 20th.

The Convention begins at 6pm on Friday, October 18th

`Fabiola and Flavio`

The attending conventioners always choose the theme for the next years convention. I really liked the pieces I had done last year and I was in `abject fear` that I could do anything `I` liked as much as those. However, I do love these fun little pieces I did this year....they are very much `me`. I just hope collectors like them as much as I do.

They are colorful, snazzy and make a great collection with `Fabiola and Flavio` leading the parade. They are bright and glitzy and some even have rhinestones decorating them. There will be at least one change....the wheels on the pieces will be brightly colored wood buttons. I am waiting on their arrival.

I only used the above buttons so I could take pics and get this out to you sooner. They look great as a whole group but I could not get a good picture to share. Its tough photographing miniatures but the good bit is....they always look better in the fur!!!
